

prof. MUDr. Zdeněk Zadák, CSc.

University Hospital Hradec Králové

Czech Republic

Prof. Zdeněk Zadák, MD, PhD. works as a head of the Department of Research and Development, University Hospital Hradec Králové. He graduated from the Charles University Prague, Faculty of Medicine in Hradec Králové in 1961. Originally a military doctor, he deals with internal medicine, with a specialization in artificial nutrition, metabolic diseases, intensive care and gerontology. He is the honorary member of 9 domestic and foreign professional societies, honorary chairman of the Society of Clinical Nutrition and Intensive Metabolic Care of the Czech Medical Association J. E. Purkyně, member of 10 editorial boards and advisory boards of domestic and foreign journals. He is the author of 11 books, 14 patents, 12 utility models, 1 prototype. He published 150 professional articles in foreign renowned journals (total IF 427.7), and was cited in world literature (1430 citations ISI Web of Knowledge).